

Civil Defence Force help reconstruct roads, conserve archaeological sites

The Civil Defence Force public outreach programs include efforts to rebuild roads in remote areas, particularly the former conflict zone, and also work to preserve archaeological sites.

Here Civil Defence Force personnel reconstructing a road, and also helping to clean and tidy up the temple grounds surrounding the incomparable Aukana statue.

