

Higher Education and Career Exhibition

ADYAPANA 2009

The ADYAPANA 2009 exhibition which is being held from 17-19 under the theme, "Study today for a better tomorrow" is expected to outperform the previous event with a wider array of educational institutes attracting Universities from Australia, Malaysia, Singapore,

India, New Zealand, USA, and the UK. The opportune timing coincides with the post A/L rush offering career guidance and options under one roof. The exhibition will feature the entire spectrum of what is on offer with a range of higher educational institutes local and international dealing with business, airlines, secretarial, IT, finance, marketing, medical and nursing, aviation and maritime, architecture, hotel management covering all educational areas that will help the students to choose their career path for a better tomorrow.

They exhibit on a vast range of career courses and course requirements such as undergraduate studies, post graduate studies, vocational studies, and job opportunities for youth. The Adyapana 2009 which commenced last Saturday will conclude today.

APIT stall at the exhibition

Enthusiastic students inquiring more information

Participants filling application forms

A foreign representative explaining to the participants at the exhibition

Participants with the leaflets distributed by the exhibitors

Pix by Salya Rupasingha