

SMEDEX 2009 attracts large crowds

The 'Agri, Livestock, Fisheries- SMEDEX 2009 organized by the Small and Medium Enterprise Developers (SMED) of the FCCISL was held from November 20-22 at the Srimavo Bandaranaike Exhibition and Convention Centre. The exhibition attracted a large number of visitors during the three days. Stalls displayed various kinds of traditional grain ready to cook such as Olu rice, Meneri, Thana Haal and Amu which those in the city were not familiar with people but rich in vitamins. A product similar to Soya meat made out of 'Green Gram Meats' (Mun Eta Mas) an instant curry was another product. The exhibition comprised of seventy stalls including agri service providers.

Coconut Development Board, Lankaputhra Bank and various fish producing companies. Pix and text by Sumanachandra Ariyawansa

Making the right choice

A stall with "Nutrimate" cornflakes made out of locally produced malze as the main raw material. Here Cerestar (Pvt) Ltd Chairman, Prabath Fonseka presents a packet of cornflakes to a child.

A stall with Wooden kitchen-ware

People buy Kaludodol

Agri machinery and equipment

A group of people buy traditional grain

Fruit and grain

