Exhibition entrance

The Light House exhibition venue

A performance by the Navy band

A live sea demonstration

Enthusiastic viewers at the exhibition

Navy diamond jubilee

In full swing and deservedly so

Viewers at the Naval and Maritime Diamond Jubilee Exhibition were enthralled to see the magnificent spectacles of the live sea demonstration displayed by the Special Boat Squadron and the Rapid Action Boat Squadron which was part of this exhibition that started on December 4 and will continue till December 12, 2010 except on December 7 and 8.

Defence Secretary Gotabhaya Rajapaksa ceremonially opened the exhibition at the Light House Exhibition Venue Colombo on December 5, 2010 accompanied by his wife Anoma Rajapaksa. The Sri Lanka Navy has all valid reasons to mark this event in full swing on account of the commendable service it rendered the nation especially during the humanitarian operations that led to the end of three-decade-long war in the country.

Throngs of visitors are crowding through the venue to view the wide variety of interesting naval and maritime exhibits on display.

Sri Lanka Navy emblem

Diving kits on display, used by ex-sea tigers

Navy weapons open for public view.

Defence Secretary and his wife Anoma Rajapaksa with high ranking officers of the Navy.

Inspecting the coast guard strength.

Defence Secretary Gotabhaya Rajapaksa being welcomed by the Navy Commander.

Defence Secretary Gotabhaya Rajapaksa being led to the venue.

Maritime equipment used by the Navy.