HOTEL ASIA show attracts over 200 exhibitors

Male Wednesday: The tenth edition of the Hotel Asia the largest gathering of the hospitality industry is the Maldives began yesterday with a record participation.

The Minister of Economics of the Maldivian government Ahamed Mohamed said that this year there was also an increase of the Maldivian participation and this was also welcomed.

“While we need to increase local participation the foreign participation too should increase,” he said. Mohamed who was the chief guest said that they would also look at increasing hall space at the capital’s convention centre as this exhibition could further enlarge. He said that the event while providing the much needed supplies to the hotel industry also enables businessmen to meet and forge alliances. He said that Sri Lanka is a very important market for them and all leaders in the Maldives have maintained close relationships with Sri Lanka.

Some highlights from the first day of the exhibition.
